Can Be Grown In Kentucky.

That rice can be grown in Kentucky is proven by an experiment made by C. C. Cummins, of Lamasco, Lyon county. He visited in Texas a year ago, and brought home some seed of the rice Texans are now growing extensively. Last May he planted some of the seed and has watered the plants since they were about four inches high. Hardly a one of them is under four feet high, and one measures four feet and eight inches. Some of the heads are well developed. Mr. Cummins feels sure that they would be ripe now had he planted a month earlier.

FOUGHT TO THE DEATH

Pistol Duel Between Detectives and Train Robber Suspects.

Two Officers and One Suspect Dead, Two Others Fatally Wounded and Others Badly Injured in a Room in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Oct. 22.-Two city detectives are dead and another is not expected to live during the night, while one train robber suspect is at the morgue and two others are in the city hospital, one probably fatally wounded and the other badly beaten up, as the result of a desperate battle Friday between five officers and three men whom they tried to arrest. Harry Adams, who escaped at the time of the shooting, was captured later by Detective Lee Killiam, who fired twice in making the arrest.

The dead: John J. Shea, detective; Thomas Dwyer, detective; Al Rose, suspect.

The wounded: James McClusky, detective, critical; C. C. Blair, fugitive, shot four times through the body; Harry H. Vaughn, fugitive, badly beaten about the head by detectives when he sought to aid his friends in the battle. The fight occurred in the front room of a house on Pine street, and the men whom the detectives sought to arrest are suspected of being implicated in a train robbery at Centralia, Ill., a few weeks ago.

The house had been under police surveillance for several days. A few minutes before the fight occurred Vaughn left the house and started to walk down Pine street. The detectives closed in on him after he had gone some distance from the house and he was arrested.

Accompanied by their prisoner the detectives returned and entered the house. Shea, McClusky and Dwyer were leading; Boyle and James were behind with the prisoner.

Hardly had the detectives entered the room in which Rose and Blair were seated when they were met with a volley of shots from a heavy caliber revolver. Shea sank to the floor on the first shot and Dwyer followed almost instantly.

By that time the detectives had drawn their revolvers and there was a deafening exchange for several sec-

The wounded officers and suspects were taken to the city hospital. Several hours after being taken to the hospital Detective Thomas Dwyer died. It was stated then by the physicians that it was feared Detective McCluskey and C. C. Blair could not

Ohio, which he refused to name for the purpose of laying plans with Blair and Rose for train robbery.

The room in which the battle occurred was a wreck. Bullet holes perforated walls, window sills and furniture, and every article in the room was overturned or broken.

AT PUERTO PLATA.

The Custom House Seized By An American Claimant.

Washington, Oct. 22.-The reported seizure by the United States of the custom house at Puerto Plata presumably arises from the already accomplished or contemplated occupation of that port by an American designated by the commission which awarded to the Santo Domingo Improvement Co. $4,500,000 damages against Santo Domingo. That award was automatically self-executing and provided that if Santo Domingo failed to pay the award the agent named by the commission was to take charge of four of not one in which the United States government is interested except in the contingency that the government of Santo Domingo fails entirely to meet its obligations to the improvement company and then only to the extent of seeing that its interests shall not suffer through such neglect. The officials say no forcible intervention by the government of the United States is contemplated at this time.

THE MARINE OFFICERS.

Important Opinion Given By Attorney General Moody.

Washington, Oct. 22.-Attorney General Moody has given an opinion to the secretary of the navy to the effect that officers of the marine corps who served during the civil war and who were retired prior to the passage of the naval appropriation act of April 27. 1904, are not entitled to advanced rank on the retired list on the ground that the benefits of that act applied only in the cases of marine officers thereafter retired.

Child Held For Murder.

New York, Oct. 22.-Alice Klingenberg, 14, who Thursday caused the death of her six-weeks-old niece whom she was attending at the home of her sister in Montclair, N. J., was Friday held without bail to await the action of the grand jury.

Broke the World's Record. Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 22.-Prince Direct and Morning Star, driven to pole Friday to lower the half mile world's pacing record of 1:011/4, made the distance in 1:00%, thus breaking the world's record.

A CHILD KIDNAPED.

Later the Body Was Found With Skull Crushed and Throat Cut.

Philadelphia, Oct. 24.-With the forehead crushed and the throat cut, the body of four-year-old Michael Mayerski, who was kidnaped near his home in Phoenixville, 28 miles from this city, Friday evening by a band of men supposed to be gypsies, was found Sunday in an abandoned farm house a few miles from Valley Forge. In connection with the murder six men belonging to a party of gypsies were arrested by Chief of Police Carter, of Phoenixville, and several constables, and after an exciting time were lodged in jail at that place. Only the courage and quick action of the police saved the prisoners from being roughly handled by a large crowd of excited The child was picked up Friday evening by a party of men who were driving through the town in two covered wagons. A boy saw them take the child but before he could attract any one's attention to pursue the kidnapers they had disappeared. All day Saturday and Saturday night searching parties were out trying to trace the wagons, but without success. Sunday while three men were in the woods gathering chestnuts they accidentally came across the body of the boy. Nearby lay a club with hair and blood on it. The authorities were quickly notified and the entire police force of Phoenixville and vicinity started out in search of gypsy bands. During the afternoon one party came across a company of them and took them into custody. They denied any knowledge of the crime.

The report that six gypsies had been arrested soon spread through Phoenixville and hundreds of men and women gathered along the streets. As the prisoners were brought through the streets there were cries of "Lynch them," "Burn them." The officers drew their revolvers and kept the angry crowd back. At the lock-up a large crowd was gathered, and the officers had difficulty in getting their prisoners through the threatening mob into the jail. The prisoners were badly frightened.

MRS. GAVIT'S LOSS.

She Left $25,000 Worth of Jewelry on a Seat in a Depot.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 24.-Police in all parts of the country were notified Sunday of the loss of $25,000 of jewelry of Mrs. E. P. Gavit, of this city, wife of the secretary of the Municipal Gas Co., and daughter of Anthony H. Brady, the well-known millionaire gas operator. Mrs. Gavit inadvertently left a small hand satchel containing the jewelry on a seat in the Grand Central station in New York city Friher loss until her train, which makes

THE BALTIC SQUADRON

It Fired on British Fishing Vessels in the North Sea.

A Couple Sunk and Several Persons Killed and Wounded-Other Ships Badly Damaged-News Causes An Intense Sensation.

Hull, Eng., Oct. 24.-A. M. Jackson & Co., solicitors for the owners of 50 Hull fishing boats, have notified the foreign office and admiralty of an attack on the Hull fishing fleet by the Russian second Pacific squadron, commonly designated as the Baltic fleet. The official information is that shortly after midnight Friday the Russian squadron fell in with the Hull fishing fleet in the North sea. The first portion of the fishing fleet passed safely. Then the Russian ships turned their searchlights on the British vessels for some time and a little later opened fire. The steam trawler Crane was sunk and the decapitated bodies of her skipper and mate have been brought to Hull. The boatswain and other members of the crew are understood to be seriously wounded.

The steam trawlers Moulmein and Mino have arrived at Hull seriously damaged by shots, the latter having 16 holes in her hull. It is feared that other damage was done to the trawlers and that at least one more was lost with all hands.

The only survivor of the Crane who has yet reached here is J. A. Smith, son of the deceased skipper, and who, with the captains of the Moulmein and Mino, is going to London to consult with the authorities. Young Smith was asieep in his bunk when the firing aroused him. Just as he was getting up, a shot struck the starboard and penetrated to the forecastle, smashing a lamp near which he was standing. He rushed on deck where the searchlights revealed the horrible sight of his father and Leggett lying headless and the deck strewn with the injured. It was soon found that the vessel was sinking and signals for assistance were sent up. Smith and others concur in the details of the firing that have already been given.

London, Oct. 24.—The steam cutter Magpie, belonging to the Gamecock trawler fleet, which was fired on by the Russian Baltic fleet, arrived in the Thames Sunday night. Her captain. Peaker, confirmed the details of the story received from Hull. He says: "Friday night there were about 40 vessels of the Gamecock fleet fishing in latitude 55 degrees 15 minutes, and longitude 5 degrees 6 minutes. It was a misty, drizzling night. We spread over an area of some miles. Our admiral had just previously signalled by rocket and colored lights the fishing direction for the night. Whether that had anything to do with what followed I do not know; the whole thing is a mystery." Hull, Oct. 24.-The news has created an intense sensation and indignation in Hull. The Moulmein arrived with her flag at half-mast. Her skipper states that the trawlers were fishing about 220 miles east by north of Spurn Head at 1 o'clock Saturday morning, the weather being heavy, when the outlines of several vessels, apparently warships, sailing in a line, were dimly seen. Whilst the crew were watching the warships, searchlights were flashed upon them, in the glare of which the Moulmein's crew observed what they took to be torpeds boats approaching, apparently with the intention of boarding the Moulmein. They steamed away, however, and soon the fishermen were horrified to find they were being fired upon. First one and then another trawler was struck by flying shot. What seemed to be a round shot went through the Moulmein galley. The Mino, lying nearby, also was struck with many shots, but fortunately the damage was above her water line and none of her crew was struck. The bombardment lasted about 20 minutes. When it had ceased the fleet sailed southward, and some of the trawlers sent up rockets. The Moulmein steered in the direction of the rocket. Soon cries were heard, and the Crane was found sinking with another trawler taking off some of her crew. Those seriously injured were removed to a mission ship and the bodies of Smith and Leggett were placed aboard the Moulmein. The other men with minor injuries were put aboard the trawler Sea Gull, which at a late hour had not arrived at Hull.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Astonishment that the Russian commander should have committed such a blunder as to fire on inoffensive fishing vessels as reported in dispatches from Hull prevailed in official circles Sunday night. At the same time these officials are prompt to express the opinion that the Russian government will promptly disavow the act and apologize when the facts are fully known. The tragedy, it is realized, adds to the complications which the Baltic fleet already encountered ever since it was determined that the vessels should go to the far east.

Valuable Colt Dead.

St. Louis, Oct. 24.-Commodore, a three-year-old chestnut colt, by The Commoner and Rosa Masso, one of the crack St. Louis race horses, died from inflammation of the stomach. The owners had refused an offer of $10.000 for him.

Wounded Soldiers at Harbin. Harbin, Oct. 24.-More than 20,000 wounded soldiers have arrived here and are being tended with the greatest care. Every available hand has been set to work in the making of 40,

The Grar's Relatives.

The list of the Russian czar's relatives includes a brother, an uncle, four cousins of the first degree, ten of the second, 13 of the third and a greatuncle. All of these except the 13 cousins of the third degree must be addressed as "imperial highness." These 33 male relatives of the czar are a great financial burden to the empire, as each of them receives an annual Income of $460,000. They moreover own in the aggregate 5,000 square miles of land and 325 palaces, employing an army of 20,000 servants.

Jealousy of Poets.

"Minor poets," said Howard Chandler Christy, the illustrator, "are apt to be jealous of one another and to treat one another rudely and spitefully. At a literary dinner the other day I heard two minor poets in conversation. 'I saw your villanelle in the Blank Magazine,' said the first. 'Did you?' said the other. 'Yes, and I heard a neat compliment on it, too, by a young woman.' 'What did she say?' The first poet laughed. 'Why,' he answered, 'she wanted to know if I had written it.'"

Prunes for Character.

Now comes one of those up-to-date scientists and declares that a steady diet of prunes will strengthen the moral character. This is simply a variation of the old saw: "Be good and you'll be happy, but you won't have much fun."-Chicago Journal.

A THEORY SUPPORTED BY FRESH CONCLUSIVE EVIDENCE

Recent Instance Proves That a Woman's Happiness is Largely Dependent on the State of Her Blood.

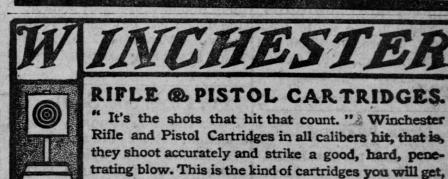

When the blood is disordered every organ of the body is affected unfavorably and fails to discharge its functions properly. In the case of every woman nature has made special provision for a periodical purification of the blood and so long as this occurs her health and spirits unfailingly reveal the beneficial results. So slight a cause as a cold or a nervous shock may produce a suppression of this vital function and until it is restored she is doomed to misery. The remedy that has proved most prompt and effective in all disorders peculiar to the female sex, is that which brought such great relief to Miss Mattie Griggs, of No. 807 Indiana street, Lawrence, Kansas, concerning which she speaks as "In the winter of 1902, from some unknown cause, there was a cessation of functions peculiar to my sex for a period of four months. I became very weak and could not get up stairs without help. I had nausea and pain and a constant headache. I was under the care of a physician for three months, but he did not succeed in caring me. Then a lady friend told me about the merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which she had used in her family and she induced me to try them. It was in May when I first began to use them and in June I had fully recovered my health, and have since remained perfectly well."

In all cases of delayed development of young girls; in anæmia or weakness due to impoverished blood and showing itself in pallor, lack of ambition, despendency and nervousness; also in the great constitutional -disturbances attending the period known as the change of life, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are invaluable for women, whose health is always closely dependent on the state of the blood. They are sold by all druggists. A booklet of valuable information relativesteeth. tion, relating to the care of a woman's health at all important periods, and en-titled "Plain Talks to Women," will be sent free in a sealed envelope to any one who chooses to write for it to the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some Smancial or family trouble. It wears and es them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendants evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They cannot, as a rule, get rid of this "continual statio," but they can remedy its health destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain."

Trial bottle of August Flower, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all drugists.—W. T.

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their bildren. Yet it is no unusal sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boschee's German Syrun when Dr. Boschee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or threat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubos. It makes expecturasion easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough-racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25c; large size 75c. At all draggists.—W. T. Brooks.

Every Committeman's work is laid out for him, and there is no sign of shirking anywhere. Judge Parker is in constant touch with headquarters. Chairman Taggart is alive to the situation in the doubtful States. His practical knowledge of politics is of inestimable value to the party. He has made no blunders. With the skill of a Japanese General he has found the weak spots in the enemies ranks, and when it has been necessary he has changed the seemingly impregnable heights, or has flanked them and driven them out of entrenched positions.

THE Judicial temperament is all right on the Bench or in the White House, but it can be dispensed with in a candidate for awakened to that fact. He is striking straight from the shoulder. His address on the Philippines was a masterful discussion of that all important question, embracing as it does the vital problem of maintaining foreign colonies, and denying to a conquered people their inde-pendence. The Judge lacks neither vigor nor courage. His views on these problems are of surpassing interest and; his manner of expressing them gives proof that he will bring to the solution of them all the qualities of heart and brain so necessary in a Chief Executive.

IT is not easy to get excited over the tariff, but when the head of every family in Kentucky realizes that he digs down in his pocket every year for $94 which goes to the protected trusts, he may sit up and take a little notice. If a burglar were to relieve him of one-tenth of the sum he would set up a howl for the police that could be heard in the remotest regions of the frozen North, even overtaking Kuropatkin, the speed marvel. But say "tariff!" to him and he will go to sleep.

IF Roosevelt's slanders as a historian were not uttered against the dead men, who in their lifetime were the leaders of their party and the pride of their sections, he would be sued for slander in every state in the Union. He has permitted none to escape his calumny. A bitterer or a more unfair pen has never been wielded by a man who laid claim to the name of historian.

LOWER THAN EVER .- We are selling and putting on wall paper at lower prices than ever before. Try us.

THIS Campaign will settle all Republican claims to Kentucky. Governor Beck-ham redeemed it last year with 27,000 majority and this year the democrats will try and increase that. All future Republican nominations in this State will be made solely with Federal offices in view as a salve for their wounds.

Too weeks from to-day and the battle ill be over. There is no time to waste Find out what your neighbor is going to do, and if he is out of line, try and show him the error of his way. A little missionary work at this time will save many a political soul from destruction.

Murdered and Robbed.

John W. Burden, a farmer who had recently moved from Nicholas county to near Millersburg, was found early Saturday morning on a porch about two miles from Millersburg in a terribly mangled condition, his skull being crushed in three places, from which he died at 2 o'clock

Mr. Burden had been in the NEWS office Friday afternoon and left an advertisement trying to find his twelve-year-old son, who had run away from home about three months ago. After he returned to Millersburg it is claimed he began drinking, and was last seen just before midnight on Friday, in company with Will Howard, colored, and Wm. N. Clarke, white. The negro was suspected and arrested. After being locked up he con-fessed. The negro said that Clarke knocked Burden in the head and he himself robbed him of ten or twelve dollars. An iron rod which the negro was seen carrying when the three left a saloon, was foundat his home under the bed. Howard says Clarke used this as his weapon. The negro is in jail here and Clarke is out under guard by order of County Judge Smith.

Clarke is a son of Chas, F. Clarke, one of the most prominent farmers in that section of the county. He came to Paris Saturday morning before his arrest with his brother, Chas. Clarke, Jr., and deeded to him 16 acres of land, for which he received $500. A few years ago young Clarke was the owner of about 300 acres of land, but a fortune. He was arrested in Paris. Mr. Clark is in no way related to the various Clarke families of Paris, however it is to be hoped that he will prove him-self innocent of the crime of which he has been accused by the negro Howard, as his family is one of the most prominent in that fast life has separated him from his little vicinity.

At the Coroner's inquest in the county court room, yesterday, no new develop-ments were brought out. The negro, Howard, however, contradicted himself several times and stated he did not see Clarke when he struck Burden, but that Clarke was standing over Burden's prostrate form when he, Howard, got over the fence. The verdict of the jury was that "Burden came to his death from blows struck by unknown party or parties."

The examining trial of the accused will be held this morning, at 10 o'clock, before Judge Smith.

Destructive Wind Storm.

A very destructive wind storm raged about four miles from Paris, about 6 o'clock, Friday evening. In fact, for awhile it looked a little squally in town. A "twin" tobacco barn, 120 by 120 feet, belonging to Mr. James Thompson, was blown down and across the Interurban track. The barn was filled with a fine crop of tobacco from 35 acres. It was dry and the timbers falling on it pulverized and broke it so that it will be unmar-

The total damage to Mr. Thompson is $8,500. He carried $4,000 insurance. The interurban cars to Paris were caught on the upper side, but vehicles were telephoned for at Paris by the road and the passengers brought to town in prompt manner. The Interurban people soon had 100 men on the ground from Lexington and by 9 o'clock the track was cleared of the barn and tobacco and a number of large trees that had fallen

Sustained Fatal Injuries.

Received Hard Fall.

W. B. Woodford, one of our most prominent farmers, received a severe fall from his horse, Saturday, and was in an un-conscious condition for several hours afterwards. He was on his horse driving some stock, among which was a vicious bull, on his farm when last seen by a servant and in a few moments afterwards the servant noticed the horse was riderless and upon investigation found Mr. Woodford on the ground unconscious with the bull standing over him. One of his stirrups was thrown over his saddle and it is supposed that the bull must have attacked his horse. Mr. Woodford is improving, but says he does not know how it happened. He is a brother of Hon. Hal Woodford, candidate for Representative.

Burglars Sunday Night.

The residence of Robt. Frank, on Pleasant street was entered by burglars Sunday night. The entrance was made afternoon by a very fast game between Paris and the Y. M. It was professional ball playing from start to finish—Paris losing the game by errors of its manager, C. D. Lucas. A large crowd attended from here and the Interurban gave good service.

Court House Under Cover.

January & Connell, who have the contract to put the roofing on the new Court House are pushing the work to a finish. The house will be under cover by six The house will be under cover by six o'clock to-night so as to protect it from the weather. The specifications called for a tile roof, but Mr. Gibson, the troublesome partner of Mr. Crawford, before severing his connection with the firm, claimed that the roof was so flat over the hig court room that it would be firm, claimed that the roof was so flat over the big court room that it would be impossible to keep it from leaking with the tile roofing. The firm from Dayton, O., employed by January & Connnell, sent a representative here and he agreed with Gibson. The Dayton people then offered to put on this asphalt roofing at the same price and quarantee it for ten years. same price and guarantee it for ten years. Architect Milburn then visited New York and Washington City to examine the new roofing and upon his return agreed to the change-pronouncing it the best. The roof now being put on is the best that can be found and January & Connell are seeing that it is put on right. This change talked about was made before Mr. Crawford took charge in person. These are the facts in the case and we predict that the old reliable firm of January & Connell will see that nothing but the very best of roofing goes on the new building.

CHAPTER XXXV.

A TROUBLED CONSCIENCE.

When Nezer saw the white-clad figure of David Curtis burst out of the house and vanish in the darkness with a yell of fear, his ingrained love of mischief received a keen but momentary satisfaction, followed by a sudden dread of consequences, and instead of continuing his ghost parade down the street, he sneaked away over

Then he began to have troubled dreams and saw himself and twice he dreamed that he was about his neck. He began to grow thin and haggard, and as Aunt Comfort would call it, "wofully peaked."

And now ensued a most ludicrous Aunt Comfort that he didn't have. The comedy was of short duration, however, for the chance to dose some one was consolation to Aunt Comfort, and she acted promptly.

"Stick out your tongue," she said to shot out of his face.

"Nothin' the matter with yer stummick ez I kin see," she ejaculated, feeling of his hands, "'n' no signs o' fever. You say your head aches, 'n' eatin' nat'rally. Do ye hev cold chills up 'n' down yer spine?"

"Yessum," responded Nezer, eagerly. "Feel dizzy?"

"All the time."

"Sick to yer stummick?" "Yessum." "Bad dreams, you say?"

"Yessum." "Well, yer gittin' bilyus," returned Aunt Comfort, wiping her "specs" on her apron, adjusting them and pulling one of the invalid's eyelids down.

'Let's see your tongue agin." For a moment she scanned it, and then added, "You want a good dose of thorough-wort 'n' I guess I'll begin with lobelia," and she started for the

"It's curus," she observed to Angie, after Nezer had swallowed his dose of lobelia tea without a murmur and hastened out of the kitchen. "I never saw that boy so willin' ter take medicine afore, n'n yet he ain't got no signs, 'ceptin' loss of appetite 'n' a leetle yaller round the eyes. Must be suthin' comin' on, though."

If there was, she took prompt, vigorous methods to head it off, however, and gave Nezer no rest.

At first he had dreaded discovery and dreamed of hanging, but inside of two days, a persistent course of thoroughwort, catnip, opodeldoc and lobelia, again varied by hot applications of burdock leaves and pepper For a little while the two remained tea, had made prison seem a blessed escape from trouble, and vinegar taste

By this time Nezer was sick in earnest, and Aunt Comfort, somewhat scared, sent for Dr. Sol. He examined him, and after Aunt Comfort had regan to doze, and Angie was alone with | counted the remedies she had tried, he laughed.

Nezer, kneeling on the ground, suddenly became absorbed in his search for nuts.

"I dunno who 'twas," he said, "'thout 'twas a ghost. Folks say 'twas, 'n' the mill is haunted; I wouldn't go thar arter dark, would you?"

Angie, knowing Nezer full well, made no response, feeling sure some admission would follow if she waited. For a few moments he pawed away at how old Dave Curtis was found dead the rustling leaves, and then looked

This time Angie had to laugh. "Now tell me all about it, Nezer," she said. "I've promised to keep your secret, and I will." "It was an awful thing to do, Nezer, Angie asserted when the tale was told, 'and I'm glad it isn't on my conscience. If you don't quit moping around the way you have, however, and act natural, all Greenvale will guess your secret before long."

But Nezer was cured already, and when the lowering sun had started them homeward, he was almost hilarious in his joy. On their way they passed Martin's fish-pond, and here a

CHAPTER XXXVI.

A NEW LIFE.

Martin's feelings, when he began the last day's journey to reach Greenvale again, were about equally divided between dread and anticipation. He had solved the mystery of Amzi's disappearance—a bit of news sure to astonish Greenvale, but of doubtful effect on Angie's peace of mind. He was now in a position to secure justice for her, if she would permit such action, "It might have been a bad boy, I and yet he dreaded to draw the veil aside and tell her what he must. Of his own hopes, and the chance to pose as a benefactor, he gave no thought. looked furtively up at Angie, and then His one and only real anticipation was the power he now held with certified facts to compel the contemptible David Curtis to an act of reparation. It was short-lived, for as Martin, the better to enjoy the scenery and learn the latest news from Greenvale, rode away with the driver, on his seat, that worthy waited not to be asked what it was.

"I s'pose," he said, "ye hain't heerd up in Mizzy swamp, hev ye?" "Good Lord, is that so?" gasped the astonished Martin. "Wal, 'tis fer a fact," came the answer, in a tone that showed how David stood in the driver's estimation. "He wus took with another fit the night o' Hallowe'en, and lit out with nothin' but his shirt on. We found arter, stone dead, 'n' stark naked. He was middlin' well done up, too, by "Come with me," he said, 'n' I'll show briers 'n' fallin' over rocks, we callated, gie gits all the property, I s'pose." "But what drove him out that night," responded Martin, having Nezer in mind; "did he see another ghost?"

"Wal, we callate he did, 'n' that's what must hev skeered him. Thar's been curus things goin' on 'bout his premises the last three months, 'n' a good many b'lieve they're hanted by Amzi's ghost. It's my private 'pinion though, that old Dave's conscience had been worrying him lately since you come back. I've heerd," he continued. "I s'pose they'd put me in jail if glancing at Martin, and anxious for 'twas found out," he said, as he hid information, "that you've bought the Mizzy property and was like to begin that's the story."

Martin smiled at this truly Yankee method of obtaining news. "I did obtain an option on the property," he responded. "But as for bringshould. I was willing to buy the Mizzy power and land, however, and pay David's price."

"Wal, mebbe that won't be necessary now," with another inquisitive glance; "they're all comin' to Angie now, 'n'n', we all callate it'll be plain sailin' now fur you." But Martin made no response to this decidedly pointed assertion, and little did that Yankee stage driver realize how far away from "glain sailing" Martin's future course seemed to him. He had returned to Greenvale prepared to astonish the natives, confound David Curtis, and save Angie her heritage, only to find that the Great Reaper had robbed him of his opportunity. For David, he felt not one grain of pity or regret, and as for Angie, his first thought was-was it now wisest or best to disclose the fact of her father's existence at all? It was but momentary, for come what might, it was Martin's fixed faith that all concealments would prove unwise in the end. His first plan had been to go to Angie as soon as possible after he arrived, and tell her all. She, first and foremost, should hear it. He dreaded the telling, however, fer many reasons. Then its result on Angie's peace of mind and future was an all-important matter, and his own hopes as well. For half the slow journey to Green-vale, Martin listened to the driver's repetition of all the grawsome facts of David's fate, including the gossip that followed it, with interest," and then, more absorbed in his own vexations. paid scant heed until the doctor's home was reached.

A cordial welcome here and a good supper restored him somewhat, and after an hour of patient listening to the doctor's version of the all-important news, and still retaining his own, he rose and declared his intention of calling upon Angie.

"Oh, by all means," laughed the doctor, "and I wish you success. If you didn't pop the question before you left, you ought to to-night, and matas I need your advice regarding her doing anything."

It was a pleasant send-off, but a proposal of marriage was farthest from

Martin's thoughts just now. It was late when he reached Aunt were alone in the sitting room. The wind rustled the brown leaves about the ancient dwelling. "You must pardon my abstraction," he said, "but I've only just arrived, and have brought you some strange news that will seem incredible, and I hardly know how to tell it. The stage driver has told me all that has happened here, but you two are first to be told what I have learned."

He naused a moment, looking first at Aunt Comfort, now wide eyed with astonishment, then at Angle, even more so, and then continued:

"It's not bad news I bring you, and vet not as good as I could wish. You remember the old hermit I told you about, Angie; well, he is-he is still there and quite content and happy, and improving some. In fact, I found him more rational, and I left old Cy to care for him this winter. It was fixing up his cabin that has kept me so long in the woods."

Once more Martin paused, for the dread secret wouldn't out, and a look of almost terror had come to Angie. "He is all right," continued poor

LEVELERS

The Mission of Whiskey, Tobacco and Coffee.

The Creator made all things, we be-

If so, He must have made these. We know what He made food and water for, and air and sunshine, but why Whiskey, Tobacco and Coffee?

They are here sure enough and each performing its work.

There must be some great plan behind it all; the thoughtful man seeks to understand something of that plan and thereby to judge these articles for their true worth.

Let us not say "bad" or "good" without taking testimony.

There are times and conditions when it certainly seems to the casual observer that these stimulant narcotics are real

Right there is the ambush that conceals a "killing" enemy.

One can slip into the habit of either whiskey, tobacco or coffee easy enough, but to "untangle" is often a fearful struggle.

It seems plain that there are circumstances when the narcotic effect of these poisons is for the moment beneficial, but the fearful argument against them is that seldom ever does one find a steady user of either whiskey, coffee or tobacco free from disease of some kind.

Certainly powerful elements in their effect on the human race.

It is a matter of daily history testified to by literally millions of people that Whiskey, Tobacco and Coffee are smiling, promising, beguiling friends on the him. Does it pay? start, but always false as hell itself in the end. Once they get firm hold enough to show their strength, they insist upon governing and drive the victim steadily towards ill health in some form; if permitted to continue to rule, they will not let up until physical and mental ruin

A man under that spell (and "under the spell" is correct) of any one of these drugs frequently assures himself and his friends: "Why, I can leave off any time I want to. I did quit for a week just to show I could." It is a sure mark of the slave when one gets to that stage. He wiggled through a week fighting every day to break the spell, was finally whipped and began his slavery all over again.

The slave (Coffee slave as well as Tobacco and Whiskey) daily reviews his condition, sees perfectly plain the steady encreachments of disease, how the nerves get weaker day by day and demand the drug that seems to smile and offer relief for a few minutes and then leave the diseased condition plainer to view than ever and growing worse. Many times the Coffee slave realizes that he is between two fires. He feels bad if he leaves off and a little worse if he drinks and allows the effect to wear off.

So it goes on from day to day. Every night the struggling victim promises himself that he will break the habit and next day when he feels a little bad (as he is quite sure to) breaks, not the habit, but his own resolution. It is nearly always a tough fight, with disaster ahead sure if the habit wins. There have been hundreds of thousands of people driven to their graves through disease brought on by coffee drinking alone, and it is quite certain that more human misery is caused by coffee and tobacco than by whiskey, for the two first are more widely used, and more hidden and insidious in the effect on nerves, heart and other vital organs,

Now, Reader, what is your opinion as to the real use the Creator has for these things? Take a look at the question from this point of view.

and are thus unsuspected until much of the dangerous work is done.

There is a law of Nature and of Nature's God that things slowly evolve from lower planes to higher, a sturdy, steady and dignified advance toward more perfect things in both the Physical and Spiritual world. The ponderous tread of evolutionary development is fixed by the Infinite and will not be quickened out of natural law by any of man's methods.

Therefore we see many illustrations showing how nature checks too rapid advance. Illinois raises phenomenal crops of corn for two or three years. If she continued to do so every year her farmers would advance in wealth far beyond those of other sections or countries. So Nature interposes a bar every three or four years and brings on a "bad year." Here we see the leveling influence at work. A man is prosperous in his business for a number of years and grows rich. Then Nature sets the "leveling influence" at work on him. Some of his investments lose, he becomes luxurious and lazy. Perhaps it is whiskey, tobacco, coffee, women, gambling, or some other form. The intent and purpose is to level him. Keep him from evolving too far ahead of the masses.

A nation becomes prosperous and great like ancient Rome. If no leveling influence set in she would dominate the world perhaps for all time. But Dame Nature sets her army of "levelers" at work. Luxury, over-eating and drink- ply.-Tit-Bits. ing, licentiousness, waste and extravagance, indulgences of all kinds, then comes the wreck. Sure, Sure, Sure. The law of the unit is the law of the mass. Man goes through the same process. Weakness (in childhood), gradual growth of strength, energy, thrift, probity, prosperity, wealth, comfort, ease, relaxation, self-indulgence, luxury, idleness, waste, debauchery, disease, and the wreck follows. The "levelers" are in the bushes along the pathway of every successful man and woman and they bag the majority.

Only now and then can a man stand it against these "levelers" and hold his fortune, fame and health to the end. | Journal.

So the Creator has use for Whiskey, been widely published and is one of Tobacco and Coffee to level down the the most remarkable illustrations of the successful ones and those who show signs of being successful, and keep them back in the race, so that the great "field" (the masses) may not be left too far be-

And yet we must admit that same all wise Creator has placed it in the power of man to stand upright, clothed in the armor of a clean cut steady mind and say unto himself, "I decline to exchange my birthright for a mess of

"I will not deaden my senses, weaken my grip on affairs and keep myself cheap, common and behind in fortune and fame by drugging with whiskey. tobacco or coffee, life is too short. It is hard enough to win the good things, without any sort of handicap, so a man is certainly a 'fool trader' when he trades strength, health, money, and the good things that come with power, for the half-asleep condition of the 'drugger' with the certainty of sickness and disease ahead."

It is a matter each individual must decide for himself. He can be a leader and semi-god if he will, or he can go along through life a drugged clown, a cheap "hewer of wood or carrier of water."

Certain it is that while the Great Father of us all does not seem to "mind" if some of his children are foolish and stupid, he seems to select others (perhaps those he intends for some special work) and allows them to be threshed and castigated most fearfully by these

If a man tries flirting with these levelers awhile, and gets a few slaps as a hint, he had better take the hint or a good solid blow will follow.

When a man tries to live upright, clean, thrifty, sober, and undrugged. manifesting as near as he knows what the Creator intends he should, happiness, health and peace seem to come to that the Russian machine guns mow-

It has been the business of the writer to provide a practical and easy way for people to break away from the coffee habit and be assured of a return to health and all of the good things that brings, provided the abuse has not gone too far, and even then the cases where the body has been rebuilt on a basis of strength and health run into the thou-

Tongueless, yet able to talk better than when in possession of his organ of speech-that is the remarkable condition of William Bunting, a wealthy bachelor of Elmer, N. J., who received treatment recently in Philadelphia.

Mr. Bunting came to the Hahnemann hospital to have his throat treated for what he believed to be inflammation, caused by a severe cold. Upon investigation the doctors found the disease to be much more serious than the patient had suspected, and that in order to save his life his tongue must be removed. It was swollen to twice its normal size, so that Mr. Bunting was unable to articulate plainly.

After the operation the first words the patient spoke, "Is it all over?" were the plainest he had spoken since Those in attendance were able to understand everything he said.

Rains and Bad Roads Stop Operations in Manchuria.

The Number of Japanese Killed During the Fighting at Port Arthur is Placed at 50,000-Reckless Attacks.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 21.-Apart from skirmishes and exploits of scouting parties there is almost a complete suspension of operations in Manchuria. The heavens have interposed to put a stop to bloodshed. Rain, impassable roads and exhausted armies are factors sufficient in themselves to explain the cessation of hostilities, and these conditions are aggravated by a dense fog overspreading the whole of the theater of war. Behind this pall either side would be able to change the disposition of whole forces in absolute secrecy; but the obscurity renders absolutely dangerous any attempt at a forward movement. When the curtain of mist is lifted the fighting may be resumed under totally changed condi-

There is an unconfirmed report that a Russian force of 20,000 men has been concentrated at Kauta Pass, 20 miles northeast of Liao Yang, which may be indicative of the direction in which Gen. Kuropatkin is likely to strike his next blow. Cold weather is causing suffering to the armies in the field, although it has wrought an improvement in the conditions for the movement of troops. A report has reached St. Petersburg, but lacks confirmation, that the Port Arthur fleet has left its anchorage in the harbor and has taken up a position in the roadstead.

"Well," she concluded, triumphantly, convinced that mere man was squelched once more by the force of feminine logic, "until I look more than 30 I'm going to be 30, and I don't care for the old United States government and all its customs inspectors and declarations. They can't make me older than I look or want to be."

Six Doctors Failed.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 24 (Special).—
After suffering from Kidney Disease for three years; after taking treatment from six different doctors without getting relief, Mr. J. O. Laudeman, of this place, found not only relief but a speedy and complete cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Speaking of his cure, Mr. Laudeman says:

"Yes, I suffered from Kidney Trouble for three years and tried six doctors to no good. Then I took just two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and they not only cured my kidneys, but gave me better health in general. Of course I recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills to others and I know a number now who are using them with good results."

Mr. Laudeman's case is not an exception. Thousands give similar experiences. For there never yet was a case of Kidney Trouble from Backache to Bright's Disease that Dodd's Kidney Pills could not cure. They are the only remedy that ever cured Six Doctors Failed.

Rev. Jacob D. Van Doren, of 57 Sixth street, Fond Du Lac, Wis., Presbyterian clergyman, says: "I had attacks of kidney disorders which kept me in the house for days at a time, unable todo anything. What I suffered can hardly be told. Complications set in, the particulars of which I will be pleased to give in a personal interview to any one who requires information. This I can conscientiously say, Doan's Kidney Pills caused a general improvement in my health. They brought great relief by lessening the

tells how any young woman may be permanently cured of monthly pains by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Young Women:—I had frequent headaches of a severe nature, dark spots before my eyes, and at my menstrual periods I suffered untold agony. A member of the lodge advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but I only scorned good advice and felt that my case was hopeless, but she kept at me until I bought a bottle and started taking it. I soon had the best reason in the world to change my opinion of the medicine, as each day my health improved, and finally I was entirely without pain at my menstruation periods. I am most grateful."—Nettie Blackmore, 28 Central Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

Painful Periods

are quickly and permanently overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The above letter is only one of hundreds of thousands which prove this statement to be a fact. Menstruation is a severe strain on a woman's vitality, — if it is painful something is wrong. Don't take narcotics to deaden the pain, but remove the cause—perhaps it is caused by irregularity or womb displacements, or the development of a tumor. Whatever it is, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is guaranteed to cure it.

If there is anything about your case about which you would like special advice, write freely to Mrs. Pinkham. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. She can surely help you, for no person in America can speak from a wider experience in treating female ills. She has helped hundreds of thousands of women back to health. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free. You are very foolish if you do not accept her kind invitation.

Details of Another Case. "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: - Ignorance and carelessness is the cause of most of the sufferings of women. I believe that if we properly understood the laws of health we would all be well, but if the sick women only knew the truth about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, they would be saved much suffer-

"I used it for five months for a local difficulty which had troubled me for years, and for which I had spent hundreds of dollars in the vain endeavor to rectify. My life forces were being sapped, and I was daily losing my vitality.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me completely, and I am now enjoying the best of health, and am most grateful, and only too pleased to endorse such a great remedy."—Miss Jennie L. Edwards, 604 H St., N. W., Washington, D. C. Mrs. Pinkham, whose address is Lynn, Mass., will answer cheerfully and without cost all letters addressed to her by sick women.

HERE is the most wonderful Heater the world has ever

The reason why the Buck's Hot Blast is the most wonderful heater in the world is because it is so constructed that it turns into fuel and burns the 38 per cent. of gas in soft coal instead of permitting it to escape through the chimney, as other heaters do. In a Buck's Hot Blast 11/4 tons of soft coal or slack will produce as much heat as one ton of anthracite or hard coal. So you can easily figure where one of these wonderful heaters will pay for itself in one or two season.

There is absolutely no Smoke, no Gas, no Soot, it is all burned up as fuel.

If you will let us demonstrate these claims to you there will be no question about your buying a

AMUSEMENTS.

-"A Royal Slave" is one of the most elaborate and beautifully melodramic productions on the road. The scenery is the finest that the studios can furnish and is dramatic situations, make the play a series of beautiful stage pictures. Though it is a melodrama of the sensational sort, there is not a shot fired during the entire play, and it is possessed of real literary and dramatic merit of a high order.

It is something to be able to say that at least we can herald the coming of a new play, full of new ideas, situations and startling effects. Such is true, however, of the forthcoming of "A Royal Slave," which is put on in a most artistic manner, complete in every detail. The play will be seen at the Grand next Wednesday night, Oct. 26. Sale of seats goes on Monday, Oct. 24, at Vanden's Drug Store. Prices, 25, 35, 50 and 75 cents.

It will be of interest to the cheatre going public of Paris to know that this place will soon be visited by that old classical drama "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." This play deals with the double life of one "Dr. Jekyll, and tells the strange wierd and wonderful tale of his transformation from the respectable, refined and generous hearted doctor to the repulsive looking, hideous, dwarfed fiend. This play, although an old one is still recognized as one of the finest classical works, and is rated in literature as an equal almost to the Shakes perian drama. The company producing "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde here is a capable one, each member being picked especially for his or her part, in this wonderful play, which is still to-day the Masterpiece of Richard Mansfield.

They have the most unique and original scenic effects that has yet been seen. As-they are plaving a few one night stands in this section of the country it is expected that every one will try and see that famous old play, "Dr. Jekyll and price of feed.

Mr. Hyde."
